Course description

This course provides documentary editing experience in three areas: 1) developing information-handling systems to deal with large amounts of film material, 2) acquiring the means to apply ideas about that material in order to develop a comprehensive authorial approach, and 3) using digital video editing equipment for each student to edit their own interpretations of three typical types of documentary footage: ethnographic, political and sociological.

Course rationale

This course is required for editing majors for two reasons: they are often the hardest to edit, and they are often the first type of film that an editor is hired to edit.

Prerequisites

For undergrad: 24 –2401 Editing I. For Grad 24-6423 Editing for Film & Video. In addition, you will need modest expertise in montage theory and in video editing. A working knowledge of the computer productivity software taught in the Foundations of Computer Applications class (required for graduation) is helpful, but not required.

Learning Objectives

PRACTICAL

- Know the post-production documentary process, including how to work with a director, decisions in setting up an editing studio, and major financial categories.
- Know how to edit a single camera documentary scene as if it were shot with two cameras, (including how to edit motivated cutaways).
- Know how to deal with enormous quantities of documentary material and to view and log rushes. In terms of logging: the differences between simple, complex and developing shots and how to log them (XCU, BCU, CU, MCU, MS, MLS, LS, VLS, XLS, pan, tilt, zoom in/out).
- Know how to use a computer to make transcriptions, two-column documentary scripts, and paper edits.
- Know how to make a documentary proposal and treatment.
- Know main issues of voice-over narration, subtitles and intertitles.

HISTORY & THEORY

- Know the names of the four documentary styles, their characteristics and canons of belief, and the names of at least two documentaries embodying each style.
- Know how the evolution in the methodology of ethnographic films influenced the history of documentary, and the names of at least five ethnographic films embodying that evolution.
- Know the contents of four essays by Sergei Eisenstein (“The Unexpected”, “A Statement”, “The Cinematic Principle and the Ideogram”, “Methods of Montage”) and their relevancy in editing.
- Know the differences between the two major types of content metaphors (Pudovkin’s “associational montage” and Eisenstein’s “collision montage”) and the major types of editing metaphors (duration and placement, rhythm, framing, kinetic, aural, optical) and their relevancy in editing.

Whew! And this is just the beginning.... So:

Taking good notes is essential—without them you will have difficulty learning.

You must work and participate actively in all discussions. Graduate students should lead the way. You should be organized, able to work for long periods alone, and enjoy the process of creating scenes experimentally with time devoted to building and rebuilding them. You will need to devote 6-10 hours per week to work outside class.

Grading policy and evaluation procedures

Credit hours:	4
Grading scale:	GRADES: Grades are based on the quality of your work, your ability as a professional-in-training to meet each deadline, and your ability to work responsibly and creatively with editing problems and issues. Therefore, I do not respond positively to explanations for lack of work (other than for jury duty, jail or military duty), appeals to raise a grade in order to remain a Film/Video major, or to graduate on time, etc. Grades are awarded as follows:

	Assignments and Quizzes: You will be graded at each deadline: F if you miss it; D, C, B, or A for quality of work if you meet it. (50% of grade). Final Edits: F for each project if you are absent for your final presentation in each of the final projects or have no completed work; D, C, B, or A for quality and originality of work completed within the semester. (50% of grade). Graduate Student Grading: Graduate students in the Columbia College Chicago MFA Film program will be held to a higher standard for all assignments, quizzes and final edits. Graduate Students are required to write an additional 5 page paper relating to the editing and structure of a documentary film. Please submit a proposal no later than Week 5. Paper will be due the last day of class.
Requirements and assignments:	Assignments and quizzes are listed in the syllabus. You should keep this document as well as your returned assignments, quizzes and examinations because it is your responsibility to know these written policies and your performance to date. The grade sheet will always be open and by my lecture notes; you may freely consult your grades to date at any time. Projects may be edited on the Avid systems at Columbia and presented on that system. However, if you find it more convenient to edit in your own studio, you may digitize the rushes and present your edits on VHS or DVD. LAST PROJECT: I fully and enthusiastically support the editing of your own documentary project as a creative substitute for one of the major class projects as we proceed further into the semester. If you have such a project, please contact me to discuss its scope and its present state. Please note that the major shooting for your project must already be completed before you begin to edit, and a DVD, Quicktime or VHS dub of the rushes or selects must be submitted to me for approval prior to my signing off on any editing project.
Standards and proportions used:	Grading Scale: I An Incomplete Grade (I) can only be issued for an undergraduate student who has met one of the following criteria: The student has successfully completed all course requirements to date but is faced with unexpected circumstances during the final weeks of the semester resulting in the inability to complete course requirements by the end of the semester. The student must have, in the instructor's estimation, the ability to complete missed course requirements outside of class and by the end of the eighth week of the following semester. The instructor must agree to evaluate the student's work and replace the Incomplete grade before the end of the following semester. An agreement specifying work to be completed and a due date must be signed by both instructor and student and approved by the

	Department Chair. The instructor is responsible for obtaining the final evaluation and submitting a letter grade to replace the Incomplete by the eighth week of the following semester. An agreement specifying the need for the final evaluation from the external supervisor must be signed by both instructor and approved by the Department Chair. F If you are absent from your final presentation(s); incomplete course requirements and absences above the course allotment. D Sub-standard work. C Work of average quality and with average participation. B Assignments presented on time, regular attendance, good participation, and steady significant efforts throughout. Many students receive this grade. A "B" requirements, along with outstanding participation and work. A small number of students normally receive this grade. (100-95%=A; 94-90%= A- ; 89-86% = B+ ; 85-83%= B ; 82-80%= B – ; 79-76% = C+ ; 75-73%= C ; 72-70%= C – ; 69-60%= D; 59% and Below = F)

Classroom policies

Academic Integrity:	Students at Columbia College Chicago enjoy significant freedom of artistic expression and are encouraged to stretch their scholarly and artistic boundaries. However, the College prohibits all forms of academic dishonesty. For present purposes, "academic dishonesty" is understood as the appropriation and representation of another's work as one's own, whether such appropriation includes all or part of the other's work or whether it comprises all or part of what is represented as one's own work (plagiarism). Appropriate citation avoids this form of dishonesty. In addition, "academic dishonesty" includes cheating in any form, the falsification of academic documents or the falsification of works or references for the use in class or other academic circumstances. When such dishonesty is discovered, the consequences to the student can be severe. The video and audio components and all materials used in this class are the exclusive property of the copyright holder(s). You are prohibited from using the work materials, your work, or any other attributes of the class for any other purpose other than to gain experience in the field of film and video postproduction audio without the express permission of the copyright holder(s). You may not repackage or distribute your work in any current method or process yet to be established, nor to exhibit, nor to post, display, upload, download or file transfer to or from any site on or to the Internet World Wide Web. Courtesy must be observed at all times in my classroom. Please read the academic policies of this college. I will follow those policies in any instance

Attendance policy:	The fourth absence results in an automatic “F” in this course. I do not remind students of the number of absences accrued. If you accrue four absences and earn a failing grade you are still most welcome to keep attending, working and learning.
Absences:	We will move quickly in this course. It is my experience that if a student misses a single class within the first six weeks, it is difficult to catch up. Two missed classes are very difficult to overcome. Because of this, there are no excused absences (with the exceptions of jury duty, jail or military duty). Please plan ahead for an unplanned absence by obtaining the email and telephone number of a fellow student and in order to contact them for notes and work due if you are forced to be absent—especially since this syllabus will be changing from week to week in response to your needs and learning pace (see Syllabus, below).
Tardiness:	Tardiness is unacceptable because it disrupts learning. Arriving 15 minutes after the scheduled starting time for the class will be considered a late arrival. Two late arrivals will result in one absence. Leaving fifteen minutes before the end of class will be considered an early exit. Two early exits will result in one absence.
Late work and makeup assignments:	You will be graded at each deadline--and, like any professional deadline, if you miss it you MAY NOT make it up unless you have previously arranged it with me. Late assignments without previous arrangement will not be graded. You may always, however, hand in a late assignment for feedback, only. F for the assignment if you miss it; D, C, B, or A for quality of work if you meet it.
Important Dates:	For Add/Drop, last day to withdraw from classes, etc.: http://www.colum.edu/Administrative_offices/Records/Important_Dates.php

Conaway Center Statement

“Students with disabilities are requested to present their Columbia accommodation letters to their instructor at the beginning of the semester so that accommodations can be arranged in a timely manner by the College, the department or the faculty member, as appropriate. Students with disabilities who do not have accommodation letters should visit the office of Services for Students with Disabilities in room 520 of the Congress building (312.344.8134/V or 312.360.0767/TTY). It is incumbent upon the student to know their responsibilities in this regard.”

Writing Center

You are invited to visit Columbia College's Writing Center. You may drop in or have a standing weekly appointment. Writing consultants can help you develop a paper idea, organize a paper, revise a paper, or understand your reading.

Course calendar

Please note that individual class sessions are subject to change. They will be in response to the pace of your learning. The choice of readings and documentary films will also be in response to your needs and are therefore not yet totally listed in the syllabus. I will make every effort to keep you informed of changes in the schedule. Some items may change at my discretion, but the overall workload will not.

WEEK ONE— January 27

Student's Understanding

I have carefully read through the Attendance and Grading Policies, Syllabus and Class Schedule for this class and understand what will be expected of me throughout the semester. I understand that the sequence and content of individual class sections are subject to change.

I understand that the video and film media used in this class is protected by copyright laws and is for use as in-class exercises only. I will refrain from any public or private distribution of the footage, images or audio recordings. I understand that the superimposed copyright on media may not be "letterboxed" or covered over in any way. I will not upload the aforementioned media to Internet sites, whether public or private, such as YouTube, MySpace, or the Columbia College Chicago Portfolio Center Web Publish System, and I will not exhibit any of the footage or edited exercises in any public venue, at any film festival or include the footage in any compilation or "demo reel" of my work.

I also understand that my written papers will be submitted and retained in the database of TurnItIn.com, an Internet company used to detect and prevent plagiarism.

All editing elements created by me are my sole responsibility. Neither Columbia College Chicago nor any of its agents or employees assume responsibility or guarantee or warranty the storage devices utilized throughout the course of the class. My digital class materials and the backup of my materials are my sole responsibility. Media Storage of documentary elements will not be provided after the end of the semester.
